SINCE my business is ADVERTISING, I am taking my own medicine by advertising myself.

I do not intend to boast about myself, but I do want to tell you what I think I can do.

There are many clever men in the field. I know I have the keenest competition to meet but that will not prevent me from getting my share of the business.

I feel so sure of being able to help some business men to do a greater business by adopting the style of advertising I believe in, that I will be willing to take a modest fee, as I am certain you would not like, in fairness to me, that I should render this service absolutely free of charge.

HEALTHY HAIR HINTS.

The idea that baldness is a sign of intellectuality is fast being exploded.

The hair is not pushed out of the head by the great knowledge inside.

In fact many learned men use Kaminis Oil to prevent their hair from coming out.

They are succeeding with it, too.

So are many in all stages of intellectuality.

Available everywhere but it must be Kaminis Oil.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometers:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 80 deg. F. and to the level of the tide, at 8-45 a.m., Standard Time on the 2nd September 1916 was 29.942 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by .031 inch for every 5 degrees according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid no temperature correction is needed. But for comparison at 80 deg. F. all aneroid readings should be increased by .138 inch. For correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide level in the stream at 8-45 a.m. Standard Time, the ship's barometer reading should be increased by .010 inch for every 10 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given.

CALCUTTA SHARE MARKET.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Sept. 2.

The feature of the Share Market to-day was the continued demand for coal shares in which a large business was reported with prices ruling very firm. Jute mill shares were flat and not much inquired for; there was, however, no weakness visible but more attention was devoted to coal shares which caused jutes to be to some extent neglected. Dalbhoom gold shares found buyers at 29/4.

Coal:—Bansjorah 9/6, 9/8, Bengal Bhatdee 13/8, Bhalgora 30, 30/2, Borrea 13/12, 14, Bokoro and Ramgur 15/8, 15/12, Burrakur 25/12, 26. PROPOSED COLLEGE AT SURAT.

BOMBAY'S SYMPATHY WITH THE MOVEMENT.

At the Vanita Vishram on Sunday afternoon a meeting of the citizens of Surat, and also other sympathisers with the cause of higher education, was held.

Mr. T. N. Malvi in proposing that Khan Bahadur J. A. Dalal do take the chair, gave a history of the Sarvajanik Education Society in Surat and said that it was essential for the success of the scheme that the public of Bombay should help liberally towards the funds.

The Chairman in the course of a long speech, referred to the days when he received his own education under teachers who worked for the cause of education on a mere pittance. At that time the teachers had the liberty to choose their own books for their students and that was a great thing. Their choice was not circumscribed to a few books prescribed by the educational department.

Mr. C. M. Ghandhi who spoke in Gujerati, gave the history and the circumstances under which the movement for the college had started. They had collected in Surat a sum of Rs. 58,000, from the Malvi family Rs. 15,000, and from the widow of the late Mr. C. D. Saraya Rs. 15,000. He thought an advisory board should be appointed in Bombay with a view to furthering the movement of the college, and to get it affiliated with the University. He hoped that the public of Bombay would liberally help the institution and bring it to a successful end.

Mr. K. R. Dadachanji then proposed the first resolution:—

"That this meeting accords its approval and cordial sympathy to the movement for establishing a second grade Arts' College in Surat under the auspices and management of the Sarvajanik Education Society of Surat and resolves that a subscription list be started in Bombay to aid and supplement the funds that are being raised in Surat by the Society for the purpose."

He said it was a great necessity that there should be a college in Surat and that it was the duty of every one to help it to the best of his ability. The college would not only benefit the Hindus, but also the Parsis and Borahs of Surat. Education was of essential importance for the benefit of the country and unless their children had education there could be no satisfactory progress.

Mr. Munshi seconded the resolution and it was passed unanimously.

Mr. Mody proposed the second resolution which was:—

"That the following gentlemen named at the meeting be appointed as a working body for the purpose of collecting subscriptions in Bombay with power to add to their number and appoint volunteers for the purpose, with Mr. T. N. Malvi, as President, Dr. H. A. Nakhooda and Messrs. H. M. Mehta, M. J. Gajjar and Gulabchand Devchand Jhaveri as Secretaries and the firm of Messrs. Narandas Rajaram and Co. as Treasurers, for the purpose of receiving the funds subscribed and collected in Bombay."

Mr. T. N. Kajiji seconded the resolution which was carried unanimously.

The Chairman in winding-up the proceedings, said that a college in Surat would not only be a convenience to the people of Surat, but to the people in the neighbouring districts. The students in search of education at the present time had to undergo melancholy wanderings. It was difficult for the students to obtain entrance into colleges on account of overcrowding. Surat was lagging behind Ahmedabad, and they should remove that reproach.

MOTOR FATALITIES.

FATAL JUMP TO AVOID A CAR.

Dr. W. Numan, the Acting Coroner held yesterday an inquest on the body of Luxman Raghu (40), a carpenter. The evidence showed that about 11-30 a.m. on Friday the deceased and another man were walking down Falkland Bridge, when a motor car belonging to Mr. Bhaishanker Nanabhai, solicitor, and driven by one Babaji Raoji, came up from behind. The driver blew his horn and the two men jumped aside, one to the right and the other to the left. The deceased's companion escaped, but the deceased fell sustaining a wound on the head. The car was stopped and he was taken to the J. J. Hospital, where he died subsequently from compression of the brain caused by a fracture of the skull.

Mr. Bhaishanker deposed that the car was proceeding at a rate of ten miles an hour and was following another car containing a sick person. Another witness, who was sitting by the side of the driver, thought that the car did not strike the deceased. They felt no shock. The jury returned a verdict that the death was due to an accidental fall while jumping aside to avoid a motor car.

ACCIDENT ON HORNBY ROAD.

Another inquest was held at the same place on the body of Joachim V. Rodrigues (45), a butler, who was knocked down and killed by a taxi car on August 29 and died on Saturday afternoon from his injuries at the J. J. Hospital.

Captain W. MacLeod, R.A.M.C., deposed that about 9-50 p.m. on the day in question he was being driven along Hornby Road towards the Excelsior Theatre in a motor car by one Arthur Soloman, and as it came opposite Badham Pile's it swerved suddenly. He felt a knock as if the car had struck something. It travelled about thirty paces and then stopped. The driver stopped of his own accord. The witness got out and saw the deceased lying on the road. He called the car back, placed the injured man in it and told the driver to take him to the nearest hospital. The witness said he did not see anything before the car swerved. It was travelling not unusually fast, perhaps fifteen to twenty miles an hour. He was not prepared to swear to the exact speed, or as to whether the lamps were properly lit. There was a tram car going ahead of the taxi, which was on the proper side. The man fell near the tram line. His attention was first attracted by the sudden swerve. He did not hear the horn. There was very little traffic. He was alone in the car.

Arthur Soloman, the taxi driver, said that as he came near the National Bank he saw the deceased suddenly come near the taxi in order to cross over and catch a tram car. He blew his horn. The deceased turned to the left and was knocked down.

Dr. D. R. Bardi, House Surgeon, J. J. Hospital, deposed that the death of the deceased was due to fracture of the skull.

The jury returned a verdict that the deceased died from injuries received by having been knocked down by the motor car, and expressed the opinion that there was nothing in the evidence to prove that the fatality was other than accidental.

MILK DEMONSTRATION IN BROACH.

The Broach Sanitary Association had milk analysis and demonstration by Mr. M. M. Desai of the Surat Government farm on the 31st ultimo under the presidentship of Mr. Emanuel, Collector and President of the Association before a large audience. It has awakened public interest in the question. Mr. Emanuel and Mr. B. M. Desai, Divisional Inspector of Agriculture, urged to organise co-operative dairies and municipal control of milk.

The Railway Board have sanctioned a reconnaissance survey being carried out by the agency of the Eastern Bengal Railway for a line of railway on the metre gauge from Sorbheg, a station on the Eastern Bengal Railway to Barpeta, a distance of about 12 miles.

NO MORE FAT PEOPLE.

Most fat people seem to think that the only way to take off fat is to use dangerous drugs, follow a starvation diet or take strenuous exercise. But all this is nonsense, and, thanks to the recent discovery of an eminent scientist thousands of men and women are taking off several pounds of useless fat a week, by simply rubbing on to the fat part—hips, arms, chin, or abdomen—a simple lotion made by pouring a cup of hot water over a dram of quassia chips; let it stand for a minute, then strain through a cloth and add 3 ounces of Cirola Bark Extract. Pour the mixture into a bottle and apply night and morning, rubbing it in with the hands for about 10 minutes, using a circular motion, and the fat will almost seem to melt away before your very eyes. The ingredients, which are inexpensive, may be had or any chemist, and the results to be obtained are really remarkable.

QUADRANGULAR MATCH.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir.—The following lines have more truth and the undersigned hopes that the gentlemen responsible for the short paragraph in your to-day's issue under the above heading will see that justice is done to Mr. Mullah by inserting this correction. Let me assure the Cricket Public that Mr. Mullah has never declined the Parsi Selection Committee's invitation to play for the Parsis. He is the last man to do so if a Parsi Selection Committee invites him to play for the Parsis. What he has declined is to gratify the whims of the Parsi Gymkhana Committee.

The above underlined words point a meaning and make a world of difference in arriving at a correct understanding of the facts. If truth can tell let me know.—Yours etc.,

C. DUMASIA.

QUADRANGULAR CRICKET.

TO-DAY'S CONTESTANTS

The annual Quadrangular cricket contest commences on the Esplanade at 11-30 a.m. to-day, when the Parsis meet the Mahomedans, the following teams taking the field:

THE PARSIS.

(1) Dr. H. D. Kanga (Capt.)
(2) Mr. J. S. Warden.
(3) Mr B. H. Mirza.
(4) Mr. M. D. Parekh.
(5) Mr. P. J. Chinoy.
(6) Mr. R. P. Meherhomji.
(7) Mr. D. K. Kapadia.
(8) Mr. D. D. Driver.
(9) Mr. S. M. Chothia.
(10) Mr. S. N. Gandhi.
(11) Mr. H. J. Vajifdar.

THE MAHOMEDANS.

(1) Mr. C. M. Ali (Capt.)
(2) Mr. Ashfaqueali.
(3) Mr. Ferozekhan.
(4) Mr K. A. Tambuwalla.
(5) Mr. Mirza Usufbeg.
(6) Mr. Piare Khan.
(7) Mr. Peermohomed B. Irfani.
(8) Mr. S. A. Aziz.
(9) Mr. Saleh Mohomed Khan.
(10) Mr. Saikh Mahmood.
(11) Mr. Syed Nazirhusen.

This is the fourth time that the two communities are meeting each other in the Quadrangular tournament. In the first of these the Parsis defeated the Mahomedans by a decisive margin, the latter turning the tables on their opponents in the next contest. The third game was won by the Parsis, so that they are so far one to the good over the Mahomedans. As to to-day's game it would be difficult to predict with anything like certainty as to who will win the match. Their powers of attack are of about equal strength. The Parsis appear to be a stronger batting side while the Mahomedans are pretty strong in attack. A stiff fight is therefore expected.

HINDU TEAM SELECTED.

The following have been selected to play for the Hindus against the Presidency in the second match of the Quadrangular cricket contest:—

(1) Mr. S. K. Diveker (Capt.).

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.
Monday, September 4, 1916.

THE ALLIES AND GREECE.

It is not yet clear what has happened, is happening or is going to happen in Greece. Following the report of the flight of the King, which we published on Saturday and which does not appear to be true, came another report that his Majesty had abdicated, that the Crown Prince had been appointed regent and a new ministry, which was to include M. Venizelos, formed under M. Zaimis. Of all these rumours the only one which still holds the field and appears to be true is that regarding M. Zaimis. The King apparently is still in Athens and is suffering from fever. But whether his Majesty has abdicated or not, it seems pretty clear that the control of events has passed from his hands, and the issue will now be fought out between the Venizelist party and the adherents, military and civilian, of the Court. We do not think there can be much doubt as to the issue. If M. Venizelos has joined the ministry, as stated, it may be regarded as certain that Greece is about to embark on a new policy in regard to the war which will be more in conformity with the wishes and sentiments of the nation at large. It may be that the new Government will decide upon actual intervention on the side of the Allies, though having regard to the extent to which the standing army has been honey-combed with pro-German and anti-Entente intrigue, it is not at all likely that such an extreme course is feasible. It was known before to how great an extent King Constantine and his supporters had achieved a dominating influence in the army, but we imagine that the quiet surrender of one position after another,—of forts containing valuable stores and munitions,—to the Bulgarians has come as a revelation even to those who knew that a grave state of affairs existed. In the Greek army has been suborned to such an extent as to render these happenings possible it is not easy to picture its entry into the war as Allies of the Entente until much water has passed under the bridge. But it will be enough if the present anomalous state of affairs that has existed for so many months past is brought to an end and the "friendly neutrality" towards the Allies to which Greece is pledged is strictly enforced. Much mischief has been done and endless embarassment caused to the Entente Powers by the dishonest policy inflicted on the Greek nation by King Constantine. The essential need of the moment is that the Greek people—and if they do not act themselves with sufficient promptitude the Allied Powers,—should ensure that trickery should cease and straightforward adherence to undertakings take its place.

The feature of the situation, so far as it is revealed in the telegrams at the time of writing, which causes apprehension is that the Entente Powers still seem to be following an over-considerate, if not a hesitating policy. The rights, of Great Britain, France and Russia in regard to Greece generally and the present situation in particular are clear. They are the guarantors of the independence of Greece and the constitution. It is under their protection that Greece exists as a free state, and it is a solemn obligation on the part of the King, whose dynasty was founded under their guarantees and protection, and his Government to preserve the constitution inviolate. It is a matter of incontrovertible fact that King Constantine and his puppet ministry have broken and defied the constitution and taken away from the Greek people the right to control their national destiny. That is the first clear justification for intervention, which should not be confined merely to the presentation of notes and protests. Secondly, the Greek Government entered into certain engagements in the war with the Entente Powers which the King and his ministry have done their best by trickery, intrigue and, at times, open defiance, to nullify and render ineffective. Their attitude has been one of veiled hostility instead of the friendly neutrality which was pledged, and the veil is so thin that the acts of treachery carried on behind it have often been clearly visible. Thirdly, no one who has studied the situation in Greece even superficially can have any doubt that the sentiment of the people is with the Allies and not with the Central Powers, and that they believe also their interests to be bound up with the success of their traditional friends and protectors. It is hard to believe that even the King conscientiously thinks otherwise, though he may have entertained the delusion at one time that the success of German arms would justify in the event his traitorous betrayal of the begetters of his dynasty.

We hold that from the very beginning the right lay with the Entente Powers, having regard to their paternal relationship towards the Greek people, to enforce upon the King something more than a friendly neutrality. But at least they were entitled to see, and should have seen, that friendly neutrality was honestly maintained. Instead of that the pro-German party have been allowed to undermine the loyalty of the army to the people by barefaced and unscrupulous methods. German spies have been permitted to flood the country with the object of stabbing the Allies in the dark and perverting the mind of the nation; and fictitious demonstrations against the patriot Venizelos and the Allied Governments have been organised with the object of deceiving the outside world as to the true state of the mind of the Nation. To have allowed all this to go on over a period of many months in the face of the gravity of the issues involved indicates a degree of tolerance on the part of the Powers concerned, which must have been a source of ammusement to their less scrupulous and uncompromising opponents in Berlin. But now, if this hesitant policy of misplaced consideration were to be continued, one would have to despair of the diplomatists of Paris, Petrograd and London ever learning wisdom. Past hesitations and blunders earned the entry of Bulgaria into the war on the side of the Central Powers, the overrunning of Servia and Montenegro and the martyrdom of the people of those two states, to say nothing of the extent to which the whole strategy of the Teutonic Powers was thereby assisted. We cannot afford to hesitate and delay at this supreme moment. The people of Greece are ready to assert themselves and to see imposed upon their Government the pursuance of the policy which coincides with their honour, interests and obligations. Their chosen leader is ready to act. Are they to be further thwarted and hampered by the traitors who have managed to get into their hands the control of the military machine? It rests with the Entente Powers to see that they are not thus overawed by military dictatorship. It is therefore distressing to learn that the fleets of France and Britain are still cruising about outside the Piraeus, while the ministers sit down to concoct fresh notes to M. Zaimis. The guns of the fleets should be trained on the forts and the barracks of the garrison and the troops which the transports have brought landed under their protection. This would be no act of hostility to the Greek people but rather an act of protection, and, as we read the situation, it is the only means by which the air can be effectively cleared and the nation set free from the yoke which the wretched King has placed on its neck.

THE BOMBAY POLICE.

The Annual Report on the Police of the City of Bombay for 1915 which has just been issed is a most gratifying document. It is prepared by Mr. S. M. Edwardes, who was in charge of the force throughout the year, but has since been removed to another sphere. It is prefaced in the blue-book with a high eulogy of the late Commissioner by the Chief Presidency Magistrate and the Government Resolution, which appears as an epilogue, contains another eulogy of the same official. The report itself is a most cordial testimony on the part of the Commissioner himself to the force as a whole and to nearly all the officers and departments in particular, not forgetting of course the Messrs. Taki Brothers, who have been so much bemedalled and honoured and highly commended during their brief and meteoric career. Thus the Commissioner praises the force and commends the magistracy, the magistracy and the Government praise and commend the force and the Commissioner, and everything seems for the best in the best of all possible police forces. Who therefore shall criticise?

Disagreable tasks, however, have to be performed and there are certain features which it will be necessary to comment upon, though we have not the space at present to deal with the many interesting points that arise. The usual statistics can be briefly disposed of. The total number of cognisable cases of all classes reported to the police during the year was 43,686 against 41,109 in 1914 and 40,492 in 1913 Under the Indian Penal Code there was on increase of 162 cases due to an outbreak of bicycle thefts, a form of crime which it appears is becoming more common, and in the D Division to a series of thefts of electric fittings in houses newly built or under construction. In other cases there was a rise of 2,415, which is due to the new procedure followed in cases taken up by the Agents of the S. P. C. A. which are now reported to the police instead of being taken before the magistrates direct. There is a very high percentage of convictions to cases reported. 43,467 cases of all classes were classified as true as compared with 40,787 in 1914 and 39,810 in 1913. Of these 38,177 resulted in conviction, which gives a percentage of 87.82 as compared with 88.27 in 1914 and 88.48 in 1913. In cases under the Indian Penal Code, however, the percentage was 46.49 against 49.05 and 47.78. The figures in other cases are 97.42 as compared with 97.88 and 98.10. The percentage of non-detected cases of all classes was 7.64 as against 7.57 and 8.32. Out of 44,994 persons arrested by the police during the year 42,987 were convicted, a percentage of 94.98 as compared with 95.73 and 94.88, the figures for the two previous years. In respect of stolen property the total value of property recovered gives a percentage of 36.56 as compared with 37.73 and 33.72 in 1914 and 1913 respectively. Several cases in which the police acquitted themselves with especial credit are quoted. Most of these have been reported from time to time in the press.

Comment on certain features of the report may be deferred to another occasion, but in view of the vigorous discussion that has taken place of late regarding motor accidents in Bombay the public will be immediately interested in the statistics of such accidents for the year under review. The number of motor vehicles registered during the year was 733 as compared with 558 in 1914 and 540 in 1913. American vehicles registered numbered 210 and it is stated in the report that the war does not appear to have affected the trade in motor vehicles to any extent "nor does it seem to have interfered much in 1915 with the export of such articles from European countries which supplied Bombay before the war," a statement which is somewhat surprising in view of the extent to which the manufacture of cars has been brought to a standstill in Belgium, Germany, France and England. We should be surprised in fact if the trade as a whole would confirm such a statement. As regards accidents the number was 414 as compared with 311 in the previous year, an increase of 103. There were, however, 359 more vehicles in use than in 1914, exclusive of heavy vehicles which numbered 70 in 1915, but for which no figure is recorded for the previous year. Of these accidents only 22 were of a fatal character, one less than in 1914, and 17 of these are reported as having been due more or less to the fault of the pedestrian and five to the fault of the driver. In two of the latter class of cases the drivers died from the injuries they received. The number of prosecutions increased from 220 in 1914 to 364 in 1915 and the number of convictions was 301 as compared with 162. 140 drivers were warned by the Head Police Office and 44 licenses were suspended. Neither the number of accidents, fatal or otherwise, or the proportion of convictions to prosecutions seems to suggest that drivers in the City of Bombay are exceptionally careless or that the magistrates are slow to convict when cases are brought before them.

Notes of the Day.

The Situation.

The success achieved by the Roumanians in the initial stages of their offensive was, of course, more or less to be expected, but it is none the less gratifying that they have succeeded in routing the forces contesting their passage into Transylvania. It is reported that von Hindenburg intends concentrating heavy forces to meet the new danger and that for this object he is prepared to sacrifice the position in the West by shortening the line. That remains to be seen. There is no sign of it as yet, but the next week or so should demonstrate how far the assertions that the Germans have exhausted their reserves are well-founded. It is certain that if they propose to weaken their strength on the Western Front something of a dramatic character must happen in that quarter ere long, and we may be sure that Generals Joffre and Haig are watching with eagle eyes for any point at which the weakness of the enemy will give them a new opening, or, should he really elect to shorten the line, to take advantage of the first signs of a move in that direction to endeavour to turn the shortening of the line into a breaking of it. In the meanwhile heavy fighting is again in progress on practically the whole Somme Front, and the Germans have once more made colossal sacrifices in fruitless endeavours to recapture lost ground. Beyond the gaining of a footing in a small area these attacks have been everywhere repulsed.

What Will Hindenberg Do?

Many people have no doubt been perturbed by the apparent pause in the Allies offensive in the West during the past few days and the slowness with which events in the Balkans are developing. In regard to this the chief consideration that arises is that the turn of affairs following on the intervention of Roumania has so altered the character of the whole strategic situation that plans must be recast wholesale, and it is not at all unlikely that the Allies are waiting to see definitely what von Hindenburg is going to do before further continuing to commit themselves to schemes that may be superseded by others of a more profitable nature. It is true that the initiative has been wrested from the enemy both East and West. On the other hand, the problem that he has to solve is stupendous and whatever he determines to do he is at a disadvantage. If he concentrates against the Russo-Roumanian danger to a really effective extent, he must so weaken his position in the West that, whether it is by his own election or by the pressure of circumstances, the shortening or breaking of his line must follow, unless there has been a wholesale miscalculation as to his resources or miracles are to happen. It is quite conceivable that the Allies will not act definitely until it is clear at what point the weakness of the enemy is most apparent.

The Revival of the Punchayat.

The Committee appointed by the Government of the United Provinces to enquire into the possibilities of establishing a regular Panchayat system in the Provinces has, as a telegram states, just been published. The finding of the Committee that it considers that such a system would be welcome to the villagers as a whole is not a little amusing. We did not need a Government Committee to tell us that the people would welcome any opportunity of managing the affairs of their own villages as they did until recent times in spite of upheavals of Empires. The Village Panchayat is not an exotic in the country. Its establishment will be merely a restitution of the rights and privileges enjoyed from times immemorial and the time for such a restitution is not ripe but over-ripe. What is needed is a substantial and practical beginning in the process of restoration. From this standpoint, it is satisfactory that the Committee recommends some practical suggestions in this direction.

A Half-hearted Scheme.

The telegraphic summary of its recommendations is too brief and vague to render any final comment possible. But as the summary stands, it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the recommendations are at least half-hearted. The right of the Panchayat to try civil and criminal cases and to have a voice in sanitary and educational matters is recognised, but to a very limited extent. The absence of any independent power of taxation and expenditure is unfortunate. In fact a village Panchayat constituted on the lines suggested would be far from self-reliant and self-contained, but would be a mere caricature of the Punchayats the Indian villages knew,—especially as the members are to be all nominated by the District Magistrate who is, besides, to possess absolute power over them. An over-centralised system like this can hardly conduce to the growth of real local self-government in villages.

Elective Majorities in Provincial Councils.

Sir Harcourt Butler appears to have done the right thing in nominating a representative committee to go into the whole question of the constitution of the Burma Legislative Council, with reference, more especially, to the enlargement of popular representation. The Burma Council is at present constituted on an admittedly too narrow basis. The official element is feeble in numbers, while large Burmese interests, whether professional, commercial and trading, or land-owning, are left practically unrepresented. As the Government points out, the system of election widely applied to most other provinces, is in Burma confined to two public bodies, and Sir Harcourt is undoubtedly right in considering that a genuine effort should be made to enlarge the representation of the vast indigenous agricultural and commercial interests. Burma is practically at the beginning of things, and the elective system among others. The need everywhere is for the expansion of the elective system in substitution of the system of nomination, and furthermore, the creation of elective majorities in lieu of non-official majorities. That is the ideal to be kept constantly in view, and it is pleasing to record the fact that in making the beginning in Burma, Sir Harcourt rightly insists on the expansion of the elective system.

Some New Kitchener Stories.

Col. Verner's account in the "Nineteenth Century" of his experiences with Lord Kitchener in the Gordon expedition is very interesting reading. He tells us of the obstinacy of Buller, the General who refused to fill up the wells at Abon Klea when the force was retiring with insufficient transport and pursued by the Mahdi's men. Finally, with difficulty they got Buller to say fill up the biggest well, and in the end every well was filled in entire disobedience to Buller with the result that the enemy could not pursue. That was Lord Kitchener's thought. Here is a passage which contains Lord Kitchener's views about tea making. "It fell to my lot to make tea which I did in the ordinary way. Kitchener, however, objected to my methods and seizing the tin tea-pot, put it on the fire and boiled it for a few minutes saying 'I like my tea with a grip in it.' He certainly got what he wanted and threw on it." It seems that Lord Kitchener's idea of his vocation was to command cavalry! He had some under Sir Evelyn Wood and was keen about cavalry reconnaissance.

A True Prophecy.

When Lord Kitchener was 35 he told Col. Verner that he thought his best work was the Survey of Cyprus carried out in 1878-1882. He said that he had been promised a C.M.G. for it but that three years had passed and he had been probably forgotten. He scarcely ever referred to his Survey in Palestine. After the Gordon expedition, Kitchener was appointed Royal Engineer officer-in-charge of barrack reconstruction at Cork! Lord Salisbury rescued him from this and sent him to Zanzibar on a mission for the Foreign Office. His last words to Col. Verner before he left for Zanzibar were "Never mind, my dear fellow, a few years hence you and I will be generals and these people who annoy us now will be looking at us out of their club windows, with all their teeth falling out of their heads." A thought which will be appreciated by all young men of thirty-five!

THE WAR.

SUMMARY OF TELEGRAMS.

BRITISH OFFENSIVE.

REVOLUTION IN GREECE.

BRILLIANT ROUMANIAN ADVANCE.

ZEPPELIN FELLED IN LONDON.

The British have ttken the offensive from the Ancre to Falfemont Farm on a front of several miles with Thiepval roughly in the centre.

The Russians have resumed activity on a front of 200 miles. Fierce battles are reported 30 miles west of Lutzk and also at Alexinatz, south of Brody and on the Horonzanka river, west of Halicz besides in the Carpathians.

On Sunday night more airships than have hitherto raided England, attacked the East Coast and London area. The attack on London was beaten off and one of the raiders fell in flames.

The Roumanians began their offensive in a determined style at four different points, and severe engagements were fought for all the passes. They occupied both the passes leading to Hermanstadt and joined the troops advancing from Brasso. Desperate fighting continues on the Gyorgyo Mountains, where they have joined the Russian forces. The Austrians have retreated over 20 miles before the Roumanians

Most sensational news has been received from Athens. King Constantine is reported to have abdicated and the Crown Prince has been appointed Regent. M. Zaimis remains Premier, supported by M. Venezelos. General mobilisation is also reported to have been decreed.

A later telegram says that the allied warships off Piraeus have seized three German ships and the wireless station at the Greek Arsenal, and that the King is still suffering from fever.

There has been a revolutionary outbreak at Salonika where an influential committee consisting of prominent officers have appealed to the people and the Army to join the Allies and drive the Bulgarians from Greek soil.

Hostile aeroplanes bombed Port Said on the morning of the 1st September dropping 25 bombs. Some casualties were caused but no damage was done.

Opinion is held in Paris that Gen. Hindenburg's first effort will be made on the Damube whither heavy movement of troops is reported.

A message from General Smuts states that the enemy forces are in of all retreat east and west of the Uluguru Mountains.

BRITISH OFFENSIVE RESUMED.

FIERCE FIGHTING ON A FRONT OF SEVERAL MILES.

ZEPPELIN FELLED IN LONDON.

RESUMED BRITISH OFFENSIVE.

ON A FRONT OF SEVERAL MILES.

GROUND GAINED NEAR THIEPVAL.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, Sept. 3.

To-day's communiqué from General Haig states that fighting is in progress at Mouquet Farm, south of Thiepval. We gained ground.

Fighting is also proceeding on the banks of the Ancre and on our right about Falfemont Farm, therefore on a front of several miles with Thiepval roughly in the centre.

STRONG COUNTER-ATTACK

ENEMY'S SLIGHT ADVANTAGE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.

A British communiqué says, the Germans penetrated to a British advanced trench on a small frontage at two points in the fifth attack between Ginchy and High Wood.

After intense bombardment, the enemy counter-attacked five times with considerable forces on a front of 3,000 yards between Ginchy and High Wood. Four attacks were driven back with heavy losses, but the fifth penetrated to our advanced trench line on a small frontage at only two points.

We successfully engaged several batteries east of Beaurains, causing a big explosion.

We liberated gas from the Ypres salient with satisfactory results.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

GERMANS' SEVERE LOSSES

GREAT AERIAL ACTIVITY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, Sept. 2.

A British communiqué says, south of the Ancre the situation is unchanged From the Ancre up to Hebuterne artillery on both sides has been active, also north of Arras.

Further details of yesterday's German attack indicate that the German casualties were very severe. They were subjected everywhere to a fusillade, also in various places to concentrated fire from trench mortars and massed machine-guns. Moreover, our artillery in several places profited fully by excellent targets.

There was great aerial activity yesterday and many combats, in which five enemy machines were destroyed and at least seven others driven down damaged. We undertook several successful bombing expeditions. Five British aeroplanes were lost.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

FIERCEST COUNTER-ATTACK.

ENEMY'S STUPENDOUS LOSSES.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.

Reuter's special correspondent telegraphs that the German counter-attack on Thursday night in the neighbourhood of Delville Wood was the fiercest the enemy has yet delivered. Picked troops were employed and the desperate character of the assaults suggests that the Germans attached utmost importance to success at this spot. The onrush of dense masses was heralded by an intense barrage. The trenches in which a footing was ultimately effected were so battered that they did not afford shelter. The attack was probably meant to signalise General Hindenburg's promotion but if the casualties suffered by the enemy were published in Germany they would assuredly produce blank dismay.

ENEMY DRIVEN N.-W. OF DELVILLE WOOD.

NO INFANTRY ACTIONS ELSEWHERE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.

A British communiqué says as a result of the minor operations last night we drove the enemy out of a portion of a small area intersected by the trenches north-west of Delville Wood which he recaptured on August 31st.

There were no infantry actions elsewhere Enemy artillery was more active during the last twelve hours. Numerous gas shells were used.

FIGHTING AT MAUREPAS.

ENEMY ATTACK CRUSHED BY FRENCH FIRE.

RUSSIAN PATROL ROUT ENEMYAT AUBEREVE.

Six German aeroplanes were brought down non the Somme and three elsewhere. Four German aviators were taken prisoners.

There is nothing to report from Salonika.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

PARIS, Sept. 2.

An official statement says there was considerable artillery activity at Maurepas and southward of the Somme. The Germans violently and repeatedly attacked the trenches which we captured on August 31st, south of Estresse, and succeeded in reoccupying some portion.

The enemy violently bombarded the Thiaumont Work during the night and attempted to attack Fleury. The attack was crushed by our fire.

A Russian patrol routed an enemy party at Aubereve after a severe fight.

LIVELY ARTILLERY COMBATS.

ONLY ARTILLERY DUELS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.

Last night's Paris communiqué says there is nothing to report except artillery duels north and south of the Somme.

KAISER'S SACRIFICE OF FALKENHAYN.

POSSIBLE SHORTENING OF ENEMY'S FRONTS.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.

Opinion is expressed in Holland that the Kaiser sacrificed Falkenhayn in order to allay popular indignation against the Crown Prince and Falkenhayn, who supported instead of preventing the Prince's blunders.

Experts are of opinion that Hindenburg's appointment is a confession of failure on the part of Germany. He was probably chosen in the hope that his prestige would make German people acquiesce in the decision to shorten the fronts in France and Flanders with a view to concentrating energies and saving communications with Constantinople. It is pointed out that this may mean the reverse of shortening the war.

HINDENBURG'S FIRST EFFORT

TO BE MADE ON THE DANUBE.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.

A telegram from Paris says that information received shows that the enemy is preparing to exert his full weight on the southern Roumanian frontier whither heavy movement of troops is reported.

Opinion is held that General Hindenburg's first effort will be made on the Danube, he meanwhile holding and perhaps shortening the western front, hence the vigorous offensive there.

MINING AND BOMBING ACTIVITY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.

Last night's communqué from General Haig said there has been increased reciprocal artillery activity south of the Ancre and on other parts of the front. The only infantry action between the Ancre and the Somme consisted of bombing encounters Mines were exploded on both sides in Auchy district.

ZEPPELIN FELLED.

DESCENDS IN FLAMES.

ATTEMPT TO RAID LONDON

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 3, 1-45 a.m.

It is officially stated that several hostile airships attacked the East coast at eleven last night. Bombs have been dropped in a few places and the raid is still in progress.

LONDON, Sept. 3, 5-10 a.m.

An official statement says the attack was made with more airships than have hitherto raided England. The Eastern counties and London were apparently the objective.

The attack on London was beaten off and one of the raiders fell in flames.

Many bombs were dropped in widely separate localities but no reports of casualties or damage have been received.

LATER.

It is understood that the Zeppelin felled in London district descended in flames in open country.

Crowds assembled from the surrounding districts and cheered loudly when the Zeppelin burst into flames.

BRITISH SEAPLANE'S DUEL WITH ZEPPELIN.

LIVELY ENCOUNTER OFF THE EAST COAST.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.

A steamer has brought to an East Coast port an account of a fight in daylight between a British seaplane and a Zeppelin, one of the several which have been attacking the fishing craft. The Zeppelin descended to within a few hundred feet to attack a steamer, when it sighted an approaching seaplane. As the Zeppelin rose to escape, the seaplane dived and began bombing it. The Zeppelin's guns replied and a shell hit the seaplane which wobbled, but rose with a float smashed and continued dropping bombs. The seaplane struck the stern of the Zeppelin, which tilted and fell rapidly, but righted itself before reaching the water.

Meanwhile, the seaplane was retreating, apparently damaged. It was afterwards learned that it returned safely. The Zeppelin probably also got home, as the weather was very fine, but it was badly damaged.

An Austrian communiqué also shows that the Roumanians, in the direction of the Iron Gates, are attacking the heights east of Herkulesbad.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

AMAZING RAPIDITY OF ROUMANIA'S OFFENSIVE

DESPERATE FIGHTING ON GYORGYO MOUNTAINS.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.

Austro-Hungarian despatches via Switzerland, though reticent and strongly censored, show that the Roumanian offensive has begun at four different points. It has been amazingly rapid and they advanced eighteen miles into Hungary in two days, strengthening their positions at they proceeded.

Severe engagements were fought for all the passes. The Roumanians attacked heedless of sacrifices and the fury of the assaults and the superiority of numbers compelled the Austrians to retreat.

Subsequently the Roumanians joined the Russians north of the Gyorgyo Mountains, where desperate fighting continues on the bare, precipitous mountains.

It is admitted that a rectification of the Austrians lines has compelled the evacuation of all the frontier points, villages and towns from Orsova to the Hatzeger Mountains.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

AUSTRIAN ADMISSION.

LONDON, Sept. 1.

An Austrian communiqué admits retirement of the "advanced detachment" on the Hungaro-Roumanian frontier owing to encircling movement by strong Roumanian forces.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

Our artillery is shelling the railway station at Orsova. Hitherto we have captured 1,800 prisoners. Enemy infantry and cavalry crossed the frontier near Salvia but were immediately repulsed.

GERMAN ALARM AT ROUMANIA'S ADVANCE.

ALLIES' COMPLETE MASTERY OF THE DANUBE.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.

The German newspapers announce that the Roumanians occupy both the passes leading to Hermanstadt and are joining the troops advancing from Brasso.

Papers publish descriptions of the flight of 20,000 inhabitants of Brasso. They crowded into the trains which left every six minutes. Fugitives have described how first the Roumanian troops in their eagerness crossed the frontier up to their necks in a torrent. Their rapid advance was aided by aeroplane reconnaissance.

The mystery of the Danube by the Allies is complete and Rutschuk, Vidin and other Bulgarian towns are exposed to destruction.

German papers urge the public not to be alarmed by the further retirements, as the Austrians are unable to hold long the new front and their retirement is inevitable.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

PREPARING THE AUSTRIAN PUBLIC.

CONTEMPLATED ABANDONMENT OF TRANSYLVANIA.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.

"The Times" correspondent at Budapest states that an inspired statement published in the papers prepares the public for the retreat to the Orsova-Dornavatra line, which is half of the frontier. It admits that the difficulty of defending the frontier and the necessity to economise the forces compels the abandonment of Transylvania. Dornavatra was mentioned in a Russian communiqué yesterday.

SEVERAL PLACES EVACUATED.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.

Bulgaria's delay in declaring war on Roumania is attributed to the hope of arranging a separate peace through Bukharest, but it is suggested that the time has gone by for such bargain and that a coup de grace is preparing for Bulgaria.

Bulgarian retreat from Greece appears to have begun, a telegram from Athens stating that the Serbian cavalry have found several places evacuated.

It is believed in Petrograd that Roumania's intervention caught the Germans in the middle of a re-grouping of armies with view to vigorous counter-offensive against the Russians. The Germans must now abandon their plans or submit to a crushing blow in the Balkans.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition

GERMAN FORCES IN FULL RETREAT.

BRITISH "STRAFE HOUSES."

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.

(Copyright, 1916, by Alfred Noyes.)

Mr. Alfred Noyes in a third article dealing with British methods of coping with German submarines, says at each auxiliary base are offices, or, as they are called, 'strafe houses,' where naval officers control all that happens in all our seas. They have mapped out all our waters, and on these maps the movements of all reported submarines are recorded and followed up.

Our enemies would be disconcerted if they could see one of these great maps, on which not only the spots at which submarines were sighted are neatly marked, but also their exact courses with all their wanderings for hundreds of miles are traced with thin red lines, till the moment when a signal is given by telephone and wireless for the guns and nets to close in.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT IN U. P.

EFFECT OF THE NEW ACT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 3.

A resolution has been published comparing the elective constitution of the muncipal boards in U. P. in April, 1916, with that fixed under the New Municipalities Act. Excluding the five members elected by classes for which special electorates are provided on other than religious grounds, the total number of elected members for eighty municipal boards included in the statement is 849 as compared with 798 under the old constitution. Under the new constitution 347 seats are secured to the Moslems by the operation of the Jehangirabad clause leaving 502 seats for non-Moslems, in addition to the five seats for members elected by special electorates to be filled by non-Moslems. The percentage of the Moslem members to the total number of members elected by general electorates is nearly 41 compared with 38½, which represents the percentage of the Moslem population to the total population within municipal areas. The difference of 2.3 per cent. is equivalent to twenty seats and represents the net effect of the weight applied under the provisions of the Act to the Moslem and non-Moslem minorities, respectively, and of the method of dealing with fractions.

PROPOSED PANCHAYAT SYSTEM IN U P.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF COMMITTEE OF ENQUIRY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 2.

The Government of the United Provinces have just published a report of the committee appointed to enquire into the possibility of establishing a regular Panchayat system for villages in these provinces. The committee consider that such a system would be welcome to the villagers as a whole. They recommend that experiment should be made in selected tracts and they have outlined the powers which might be entrusted to the Panchayats. These powers would embrace the jurisdiction both in civil suits of the value of upto Rs. 25 and over minor criminal offences such as assault and petty theft. The Panchayats should also have some voice in the sanitary and educational matters; they should be appointed by the District Magistrate who should supervise their proceedings and suspend or even disestablish them, if necessary.

MANCHESTER PIECE-GOODS MARKET.

A SERIOUS OUTLOOK.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.

"The Times" Manchester correspondent says there was great anxiety on the Royal Exchange when the report of the Washington Agricultural Bureau was received, showing that the condition of cotton crop was the lowest on record, 11,800,000 bales compared with 13,000,000 bales last season.

He says it is the prospect of the price soaring to an unprecedented range which staggered the Manchester market last week. The influence of such an advance on yarns and all fabrics of Lancashire mills would be extremely unfavourable. The prices now quoted by manufacturers and spinners are a serious obstacle to business. India especially will not look at grey staples and is buying other cloths with great caution and reluctance. In the event of a further rise, many spindles and looms must close down.—Appeared in our Sunday Edition.

ALLEGED MARRIAGE BY COMPULSION

FOUR SYEDS CHARGED.

A case of unusual interest to the Mahomedan community has just been concluded in the Court of Mr Oliviera the Second Presidency Magistrate and the accused committed to the Sessions.

The accused are four Syeds, i.e., descendants of the Prophet, belonging to the Syed Section attached to the Cutchi Memon Jamat. Large sums of money have been collected for the defence and some leading men are taking a personal interest in the proceedings. The facts are that on the night of the 5th August, Mr. De Burgh, Inspector of Police at Mahim received a complaint from a widow named Saroobai that her daughter, Havabai, who was only 13 years of age, was taken away by three men belonging to her Jamat.

At the hearing of the case four persons were placed before the Magistrate (1) Syed Gafurshah; (2) Syed Habibshah; (3) Syed Badshamia and (4) Syed Ismailshah. Superintendent Coxen assisted by Mr. De Burgh appeared to prosecute. Mr. S. G. Velinkar, barrister, instructed by Mr. Gadkari, appeared for the first three accused. Accused No. 4 was defended by Mr. Azad, barrister.

It was alleged that on the night of the 5th of August, the first three accused went to Saroobai's house at Mahim at 7 p.m. and forcibly took away the little girl, put her into a motor car and brought her to Chhach Mohulla in Bombay. Here she was taken to the accused No. 1's house, where No. 1's wife and other women received her. After some time, so Havabai, said, she was given rich, embroidered clothes, which she wore, and was treated like a bride. She was made to sit on a bed, as is the custom, and after a little while some men came up to her and asked her if she was willing to marry the 4th accused. According to some witnesses, she gave her consent. On the road below in front of the house a large assembly had gathered and some respectable members of the Cutchi Jamat were also present. A Kazi was summoned, and after the usual formalities had been gone through, the Kazi solemnized the marriage. The girl was given away in marriage by her uncle who was a witness himself. The bridegroom was taken upstairs, where the newly married couple received the blessings of the elders and presents from friends and relatives.

The accused were arrested on the 6th of August and the girl was found in a room which was locked from outside though she was not alone. On the same day as they were committed to the Sessions, Mr. Velinkar, instructed by Mr. Sohrab Mulla, of Messrs. Mulla and Mulla Solicitors, appeared before the learned Chamber Judge at the High Court and applied for bail on their behalf. Mr. Justice Kemp admitted all the accused to bail. The accused are charged under Sec. 366 of the Penal Code, that is, compelling a woman to marry.

BURMA LEGISLATIVE COULCIN.

A COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR PROPOSED EXPANSION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

RANGOON, Sept. 2.

The advisibility of enlarging the Burma Legislative Council has been considered by Sir Harcourt Butler who has appointed a representative committee to examine the whole subject and to submit to his Honour the recommendations on the following points:—(1) Whether any, and if so, what increase is desirable in (a) official and (b) non-official membership of the Burma Legislative Council; (2) if increase is required in non-official membership which additional interests should be represented; (3) extent, if any, to which it is possible and advisable to expand the elective system and the manner in which the election, if recommended, should be carried out. Any recommendations which the committee may put forward in their reports will receive his Honour's careful consideration.

The Government resolution issued shows that the Burma Legislative Council is less numerous than that of any other in India. The number of official members is too small to admit of inclusion of the heads of departments or, with one exception, of Commissioners of Divisions. The places assigned for representation of Burmese and other indigenous races of the province are few and there is no separate provision for representation of professions, municipality, landholders, or Burmese commercial and trading classes. The system of election widely applied in most other provinces is in Burma confined to two public bodies in Rangoon. The Lieutenant-Governor feels that time has come for an enquiry whether the strength of the Council is commensurate with the agricultural and commercial importance of Burma, its wide area, and large wealth in minerals, oil and forests. Whether its constitution adequately provides for representation of numerous races, communities and interests of the province and whether it is now possible to adopt an elective system.

Nervous Dyspepsia

The Modern Scourge
and How to Meet it.

The pace at which we live, the hustle now so necessary for success, have unfortunately a very bad effect on the nervous and digestive systems; and this high pressure, increased lately to an alarming degree, often sows the seeds of more deadly trouble. But a sure and safe cure is at hand in that famous British Remedy, Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

Dr. Charles W. Botwood, D.Sc., Ph.D., &c., a well-known British scientist, says:—"Having had my attention called to many remarkable cures effected by Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and having personally investigated the same, I am now in a position to state that, as a safe and reliable remedy for loss of flesh and vigour, nerve affections, and bodily weakness induced by deficient assimilation of beneficial food products, Dr. Cassell's Tablets appear to be unique, and I have no hesitation in recommending the same."

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are prepared from purest selected ingredients of proved restorative power; their incomparable efficacy has made them the most popular remedy in the world for

THE ROYAL YAKUTI.

(ANANG VILAS.)

This Yakuti or life-giving nectar has been prepared from the best, choicest and richest vegetable drugs. It has a wonderful property of increasing the nerve power and is a specific for diseases. This valuable medicine is used in large quantities among Rajas, Maharajas and many of our esteemed customers. But we have ventured to give it publication simply with a view to place it before the general public owing to the demand of several friends. It is needless to expatiate upon the magical qualities of this our invaluable medicine. We would not like to blow the trumpet as is the fashion of the day, but suffice it to say that the use of this medicine is recommended to those who have any faith in the efficacy of Ayurvedic and Unani medicines. We recommend it also to those persons who desire to tone up the nervous system, to strengthen the body, refresh the memory and to guard against debility. It works like a charm and the effect is lasting. It restores strength and it is enough to say that musk is not that which a perfumer admires, it is that which diffuses fragrance of its own accord. Price per tin containing 40 pills. Rupees ten only. Postage extra. No PARHEZ necessary.

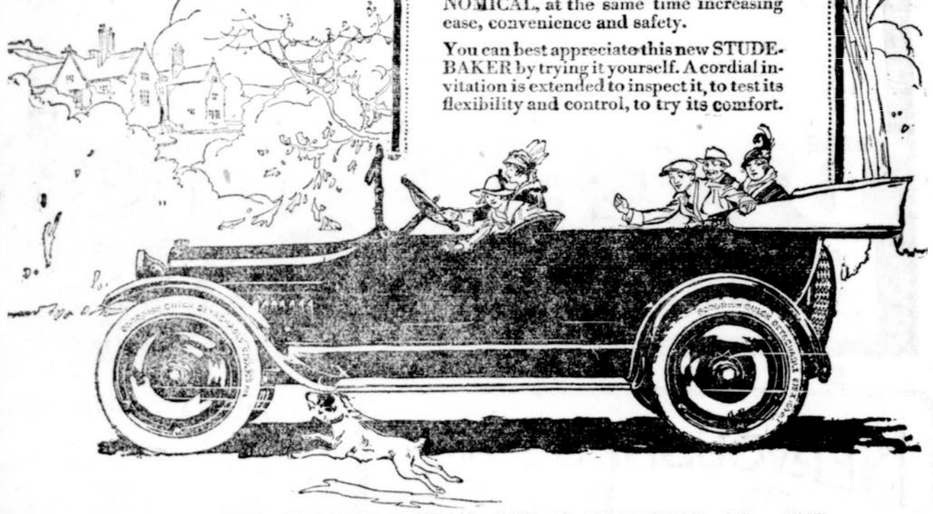
-and now any woman can drive with ease and comfort, style and safety-

Studebaker

Four Cylinder Seven Passenger TOURING CAR

Rs.4,750



—She drives with EASE in this new Studebaker "FOUR", for at her very finger tips is every lever of control. And such CONTROL it is—flexibility of power and quick acceleration that makes her mistress of every situation, whether speeding on open country roads or threading the way through crowded city traffic.

A car of beauty and style, too, is this—trim of line—so graceful and handsome that men-folk fondly speak of it in terms of the fairer sex. And of utmost COMFORT, with cushions deep and soft, and large resilient springs.

Numerous features make this the best car for women drivers. The lengthened and adjustable brake pedals give an increased leverage suited to woman's lighter weight and lesser strength. The balance and alignment are so perfect that two fingers keep it to its path. The irreversible steering gear prevents the shock of ruts and stones being felt by the driver.

This car's lightness, compared with its ample size, makes operation most ECONOMICAL, at the same time increasing ease, convenience and safety.

You can best appreciate this new STUDEBAKER by trying it yourself. A cordial invitation is extended to inspect it, to test its flexibility and control, to try its comfort.
